"Legal Malpractice Limits Under Alfieri v. Solomon," Controversial Issues in Mediation - Oregon State Bar CLE Seminar

Panel Discussion
March 13, 2020
Tigard, OR

Cosponsored by the Oregon State Bar's Alternative Dispute Resolution Section.

Today's world of mediation faces an array of complex issues. In this CLE presentation, Joseph Arellano and his fellow panelists will discuss everything from legal malpractice limits to diversity concerns and show you how these issues can be addressed in your mediation practice. Topics include:

- Limitations on client ability to maintain legal malpractice cases arising in mediation proceedings under Alfieri v. Solomon
- Is there a duty to warn clients about these limitations?
- Is an attorney obligated to discuss different case process options (mediation, litigation, arbitration, collaborative law) with a client?

For more information and to register, visit the Oregon State Bar website.

Related Services

Alternative Dispute Resolution

Litigation